BIG STEP TOWARD MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP TAKEN

One of the biggest steps in municipal ownership ever discussed before the city council has been referred to Rodriguez and Buck, to be drawn up into an enabling act to be presented to the state legislature.

Alderman Rodriguez said the bill would provide that:

1. The city should have the right to operate all cold storage plants, depots and public markets.
2. The city should purchase and sell all foodstuffs, meat, poultry, eggs, etc.
3. The city should have the right to operate coal and wood yards and ice plants.
4. The city should own the milk depots and buy and sell all milk and dairy products.
5. Bakeries, ice cream and candy factories should be managed by city and the products sold by city.
6. The city should have power to erect and operate electric light, power and gas plants and city may borrow money to aid in the maintenance of same.

This plan was outlined to 51 women who met the subcommittee, as representatives of the Mothers' league of Chicago, to protest against the high cost of food.

Mrs. E. P. Sandberg acted as spokesman. She asked:

"What are we going to do about the rising prices. Milk is rising, meats are going up, and, now that summer is approaching, the price of ice will be raised. We can't afford to pay the price. What are you going to do about it?"

In answer, Ald. Rodriguez told of the enabling act for public ownership as a remedy for the high prices of foodstuffs.
